Chatham Hill Winery Releases First Ever Pomegranate Infused Wine North Carolina Winery Adds Unique Wine To Sweet Carolina Line

MORRISVILLE, N.C. – Marek Wojciechowski and Jill Winkler, proprietors of Chatham Hill Winery, have announced that the winery has introduced pomegranate to its Sweet Carolina line of fruit infused wines. This new addition is a unique wine, created by infusion of the natural, tangy pomegranate juice to a blend of grape wines. This original wine offers all of the health benefits attributed to the pomegranate fruit, including a high level of antioxidants – two to three times that of the same amount of red wine or green tea. The Sweet Carolina Pomegranate can be purchased at a wide variety of retail grocery and independent wine shops throughout North Carolina as well as at the winery. Chatham Hill Winery can also ship to customers in states that allow out-of-state shipments. For more information contact Chatham Hill Winery at (919) 380-7135.

Quotes:

"We are excited to offer our newest addition to our Sweet Carolina line. Pomegranate has been around for centuries but has recently become very popular not only for its wonderful flavor but also for the associated health benefits such as heart health, reduced cholesterol and its ability to neutralize free radicals. According to our research, we are the only winery in the United States making a wine with pomegranate," said Winkler.
