Chatham Hill Winery Celebrates Opening of New Facility

Chatham Hill has pioneered the urban winery model in NC, a concept of increasing popularity on the west coast. With an atmosphere of a wine bar with a retail component, Chatham Hill's Tasting Room and Winemaker's Barrel Room can also be transformed into an upscale, one-of-a-kind corporate and private venue hosting evening gatherings and winemaker dinners.

"We are thrilled to have moved to a larger facility in a more prominent location that will allow us to increase our wine production and offer a more upscale venue for public wine tasting and private events," commented Wojciechowski. "Our Grand Opening will give us the opportunity to express our gratitude to many people who contributed to our success. In addition we hope that these events will bring the public recognition to the unprecedented growth of the wine industry in North Carolina."
